

A tier difference layered over country-specific variation

